The board of education Monday night will be given ample proof that the people of Memphis, those who pay the taxes and those who have children in the public schools, are in thorough sympathe with the teachers who are asking an increase in salaries to enable them to meet their living expenses, a salary schedule which will keep experienced teachers in the school system.

Women prominent in club work, suffrage organizations and in the last municipal election, when women voted for the first time in Memphis, will be among those whose names will be suggested Wednesday as members of the women's auxiliary of the county Democraticy executive committee. The list of 44 to be named has been completed, but the names are not to be made public until the committee, of which Charles E. Brower is chairman, makes its report Wednesday morning at 19:30 in the county court room.

The executive committee may call a meeting if which the women will participate, at which the method of choseing delegates to the Democratic state convention June 8, will be decided. Under the call of the state committee, meetings will be held in every county in the state May 22, but the method of selecting delegates is left to county committees.

Members of the Sheiby county committee have expressed a preference for a mass meeting. The county will have committees.

Members of the Shelby county committee have expressed a preference for a mass meeting. The county will have 110 votes in the convention, which will be divided equally between men and women delegates. Probably more than 110 delegates will be appointed, as it has been the custom in former years to name several hundred well-known Democrats. Miss Charl O. Williams, member of the advisory board of the National Democratic committee for Tennessee, hopes to have more than 50 women at the convention.

The state convention this year will not nominate a candidate for governor. I'nder the new primary law, the nomination is to be made by a primary to be held on the same date as the regular August election. It will chose four delegates from the state-at-large, and will raifly the election of the delegates from each district after they reach Nashville. Opponents of Gov. A. H. Roberts, who made his formal announcement as a candidate for re-election Sunday, and also opponents of Senator John K. Shields, have been rather active for the past few weeks, and the contest over the election of the delegates at large promises to be lively.

Local Democratic leaders, and members of the county committee, favor sending one or more women to San Francisco, as delegates-at-large and some district delegates may also be women. So far, however, no candidates for these positions have received any local indorsement.

To Keep Your Property Unentangled— Put It In Trust

WOMEN or men who have real estate or personal property which they wish to keep in their own, name under all circumstances, often can do so by placing the property in our charge under a "living" trust.

For instance, a brother and sister inherited real estate which for reasons of sentiment they did not wish to sell. Each was soon to marry, and to keep the property separate from any interests of the future husband and wife, they put-this property in trust, with the income to be divided equally between them. Since the trust was made before marriage, neither the sister's husband nor the brother's wife can claim any interest in it.

Our trust officer will be glad to explain the simplicity of a "living" trust, either by letter or in person.
